[Saint Louis, MO] Theatric hard rockers Arkangela release their self produced new album “Tempus Deserta”, available everywhere May 20th, 2021.

Described by producer Mike Bivens as “the lovechild of Slipknot and Broadway”, Arkangela is a 4 piece theatrical hard rock band, located in Saint Louis, MO, with a firm mission of delivering passionate, heavy music meant to invoke reflection within the listener, to help find strength inside negativity.

“Tempus Deserta” is a 12 song anthemic, thematic record about celebrating life through the acceptance of mortality. A loose Latin translation of “Time is wasted”, the musical theme and mood of the record is that of urgency, existentialism, and the duality of life and death.

Both their latest singles “C’est La Vie” (Leave It Be), and “Take It To Your Grave” do these extremes justice, using an equal balance of melody and musical mayhem to paint the picture of recovering their meaning of life.

While reviewing “C’est La Vie” Tyler Johnson of scenedaddy.com wrote;

“C’est La Vie (Leave It Be)” kicks off with a soft and passionate acoustic section, but quickly progresses into a grandiose metal symphony that carries the story throughout the rest of the track. In true modern metal fashion, it’s an epic ballad with forgiveness at the heart of its message.”

Arkangela is coming to a stage near you soon.
